

Port Jefferson History & Nature Center Outdoor Learning Tours

AN INTERACTIVE, OUTDOOR EXPERIENCE

Collins Academy students enjoy instructor-led, outdoor learning tours at the Port Jefferson History & Nature Center.

Outdoor learning tours explore natural habitats and historic areas. Participants learn about invasive species, habitat restoration and local wildlife in Jefferson, Texas.

Students pay close attention to what Gary Endsley from the Collins Academy is saying as he leads them on a tour of the Port Jefferson History & Nature Center.

Outdoor learning tours use technology to create an enhanced educational experience.

Using the “hands-free” microphone, instructors provide information to tour groups from up to half of a mile away.

Tour participants can listen to instructors through a small speaker they wear over their ears.

Collins Academy instructors use the Smart Bug Broadcast System to ensure participants hear and understand the information being presented along the tour. The technology also enables instructors to guide large groups from a distance, up to half of a mile away.
